Together, we have come a long way and have grown so much from the first time we walked into Bellingham Jr./Sr. High School. We are now the last class to graduate from this building. We indeed raised the roof and now we tip our hats to the memories we share together as Bellingham's graduating Class of 2001.

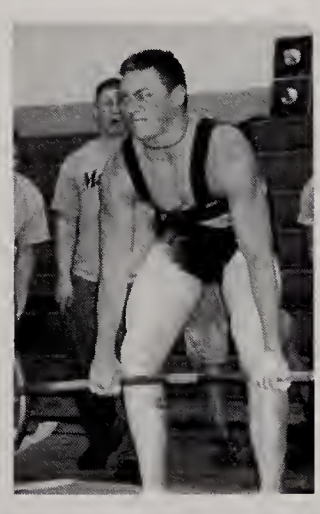
The many faces of Yearbook

This yearbook has been a very long time in the making (it was not finished until the middle of August) but we want to thank everyone who took part in making it what you are reading today. Thank You!

*Because of our missing yearbook picture, we took candid shots of some of our yearbook members enjoying other talents they possess and put them together to make a collage.



To Melissa

You have done so much for us the members of the yearbook. You not only instructed us how to make a yearbook, but you were also a trusted friend, and mentor to so many of us. We will never forget all of your hard work and dedication. You will be missed. Thank you for everything.

The 2000-2001 school year proved to be a success for the BHS student council. The year was kicked off with the annual Spirit Week competitions leading up to the Homecoming rally and dance. This year the Student Council was able to donate the largest amount ever to the community, thanks to all the students and faculty that participated in the food and toy drive.

TALENT SHOW

STAR-SEARCH WANNABES

The flow of skills at this year's talent show was tremendous. The evening was hosted by Christopher Kent and Matt Casey who both did a wonderful job. The stage welcomed several new faces as well as many familiar faces from last year. The star studded gala included performances by Britney Spears (Courtney Tagliferri), Dream, Christina Aguilera (Peter Roy), Pink, and many other vocal talents. The night also produced many comical moments for the audience. Peter Farese and Derek Milone added humor to the evening with their impressions of numerous teachers including Mr. Conti and Mr. Pepin. We saw Marya Spont on the piano, Kim Harper on the flute, and Weezer, the best band ever. Kara Pendlebury, Briane Doura, and the Bellingham High Cheerleaders added wonderful dances to this event. There were also special guest appearances by Mr. Holcomb and Mr. Trudeau both of which danced with Michelle and Kristen Hubbard to a lovely ballad. The crowd was mesmerized by the whole show. Also, a big thanks goes out to all those people back-stage who helped the show run along smoothly. We could not have done it without you! Maybe we'll be seeing more of these talented performers in the future, but until then they are merely star-search wannabes.

SPORTS

SCHOLAR ATHLETES

Jennifer Penswick

Jennifer Penswick won the hearts of many through her running capabilities and also didn't slack off in the classroom. She competed all throughout high school in three seasons of running. She was the captain of the cross-country team, winter track team and the spring track team. Jennifer ranked third in her class and excelled in many areas such as art and foreign languages. She will be studying at the University of Rhode Island this upcoming fall.

Keith Jackson

Keith Jackson has had many achievements both on and off the field. He played for the varsity soccer team for four years, where he started since his junior year. Keith also participated in high school track both spring and winter for 3 years. Keith achieved his highest honor in the classroom where he was the valedictorian of his class. He will be attending Clarkson University in the fall where he will be studying aeronautical engineering, rocket science.

The 2001 powder puff game took place on May 19th. A small group of juniors and senior girls gathered to show that boys aren't the only one's who can play football. The class of 2001 won the game for the second year in a row, but will now leave the juniors to continue on with this new growing tradition. You go girls!!!

Both the Boys and Girls Cross-Country teams were very successful this year. Senior Captain Matt Frederick along with senior leader Terence Sanderson led the team to a 3rd place finishing in the league. Rich Ranieri, Brent Landry, Randy Geib, James Katchmarsky, and Andrew Crawford, a strong core of 5 runners for next year, look to help Bellingham to the number one spot next year. The Girls team, led by Senior Captain Jen Penswick, finished 4th in the league. An inexperienced team, the Girls team will improve as the young runners, Jamie Frederick, Rachael Brown, Alysha Metcalf, Stephanie D'Eon, and Amanda Dionis, become seasoned veterans.

The Varsity field hockey team had a terrific season with a winning record of 11-3-5. We were lead by great captains Aley Botelho, Sarah Meyer, and Alice Pizzi. We had a great time singing and clapping to our "infamous" Thunder and Lightning before every game. Bus rides were filled with fun times and good music. We feel the season was a success, although we didn't make it as far as we would have liked to. Good luck next year girls, and BEAT HOLLISTON!!!

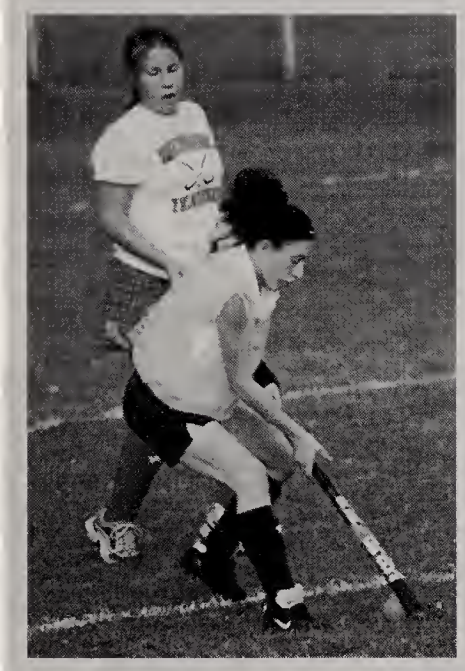
Girls In Action



Both, the Freshmen and Sub-Freshmen teams had great seasons. Newcomer, Carrie Leoncavello, an alumna of our field hockey tradition, coached the Sub-Freshmen team. We hope her talents and field hockey knowledge was passed onto our girls. The Freshmen team was again lead by returning Coach Lisa Grant. The outcome of their season shows that their first year butterflies were gone and their skills improved.

KEEP THEIR HEADS RINGIN'

The 2000 season started off slowly with two non-league losses but was quickly turned around in league play under the leadership of captains Mike Milani, Craig Koulopoulos, Josh Guillet and Marc Andrade. The Blackhawks went on to win the T.V.L. and return to the Superbowl for the second time in three years. The Hawks met the Martha's Vineyard Vinyarders at BU's Nickerson Field on December 3rd. After getting over their opening kick-off jitters and letting up a touchdown, the Hawks marched on to score 35 unanswered points to win their second state championship title in three years. Much fun was had by all on that very, very cold day. The Blackhawks look forward to a successful season again in 2001. Good luck guys!

High Meadows

On Wednesday May 23, 2001, the Class of 2001 traveled to High Meadows in Granby, Connecticut for their second class trip. Although the day was wet and rainy it didn't dampen our fun. We enjoyed a pie eating contest, basketball games, tug of war, horseback riding, swimming, karaoke, and much more. There was lots of food to fulfill everyone's appetite. Jenna Lewis won the talent show and Derek Milone won the pie eating contest. This day we will never forget.

Senior Prom

A moment long awaited was finally here. The preparation started months ago to make our night perfect. Pastel Colors were chosen for decoration and the U2 song "With or Without You" was chosen as this year's theme song. Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Mills surprised us with live fish centerpieces and the news that our DJ hadn't shown up so this one was just a fill in. Everyone was dressed beautifully and the night was pure magic.

Senior Class Trip

Thanks to Mrs. Dennis our class enjoyed a four-day trip to Disney World in Florida. We left on Friday morning occupied an entire plane and got to Florida in the afternoon. Over the four days we had lots of fun spending time at Epcot, MGM, a launch party at Fort Wilderness, a really long night at Magic Kingdom followed by a few problems getting back to our hotel and a day at our choice of a water park. The trip was a blast that will never be forgotten. Thank You Mrs. Dennis

Everyone was having fun socializing and dancing until suddenly it came to an end. The officers began to read the class will. They pretty much cleared the place and the night was over.

Class History

When we began our journey in ninth grade we were still unaware of what was in store for us. Now, four years later, we are here, graduating and either moving on to higher education, joining the work force or the armed services We all have our own stories of classes, teachers, dances and all the other things high school has to offer us.

In September of 1997, this day seemed so far away. We chose Mrs. Beck to be our class advisor. Mrs. Tulan was to be her assistant, but after getting engaged, she had to resign from her past. Our elected class officers were Erin Maillet, president, Andrew Grillo, vice president, Justine Camire, treasurer and Jackie Brolin was our secretary. We were still sore for having to be the last class to take 7th and 8th grade exams. The year went quickly with a shuffle in history teachers and the comical chemical spills in IPS, while we the students with Mr. Holcomb discovered that hydrochloric acid and ones shirt don't mix well. After suffering through four quarters, midyears and finals, we decided to start a tradition of a Freshman class trip. Canobie Lake Park was the perfect solution. It was a sunny day filled with wild rides, friends and lots of fun. We couldn't believe that high school was already a quarter of the way done.

Upon returning from a summer that seemed as though it ended too fast, we began our sophomore year. After a short period with Mr. Holcomb as Mrs. Beck's assistant, we chose Mrs. Mills as four final choice as class advisor. With class advisors straightened away and our officers Erin Maillet, Kim Rivet, Jackie Brolin and Nicole Herrick elected, we began planning for our Ring Dance. We were all fitted for our rings and after waiting for what seemed like an eternity, during which the football team finished a 10-2 season claiming the state championship by defeating South Boston 34-8, the night of the Ring Dance finally arrived. We received our rings and the court was chosen by the Images staff. Sadly, our king Adam Levesque had disappeared before he was crowned. The rest of the court consisted of our queen Crystal Pickersgill, princesses Natalia Panis, Jennifer Cardinal, Michelle Fay, and Erin Maillet. The princess selected were Justin Ridenour, Terence Sanderson, Justin Bjork and Mark McNamara. The year's fun came to an abrupt halt when guidance made a visit to our English classes with the news of the upcoming PSAT's. With that nightmare out of the way, the school year quickly ended and another year had gone by.

Already half finished with high school, we returned to begin our junior year. Our officers Michelle Dennis, Kim Rivet, Janae Laverdiere and MinYen Chen were ready to lead us through these last couple of years. We were finally upperclassmen, but before we were able to enjoy our newfound positions, we had to deal with SAT's. We were well prepared by the PSAT's and conquered these standardized tests with relative ease. With that out of the way, we held our first talent show. The night was filled with a lot of laughs and fun. Next came the Junior/Senior Christmas party were Rich Heinricher did a rather interesting impersonation of Santa Claus. Midyears passed again and courses changed, but tragedy struck during our April vacation when our classmate, Crystal Brown passed away prematurely. I would like to point out the memorial we have set up to show that even though she cannot be with us today, we still remember and miss her. Though devastated by the loss we continued on with the year. The band had returned from their competition with a silver medal and we had the first ever junior bunk day. We all took a ride to Six Flags New England and we already felt senioritis setting in. Finally, the night of the prom arrived, we all dressed our best and went off to Luciano's on Lake Pearl for a night of dancing, pictures and friends. In seemingly no time the night ended with Mike Bellanti being crowned king, Alexis Attwood queen, Derek Milone, Andrew Grillo, Matt Murzycki and Brian Denietolis the princess, Sheena Grandpre, Janae Laverdiere, Michelle Dennis and Jess Finneran the princesses.

Our junior year was already over and we were entering final stretch of high school. After a summer of visiting schools, we returned as seniors. The senior class officers, Terence Sanderson, Kimberly Rivet, MinYen Chen and myself, Willis Martin were ready to serve the class. We all flooded the guidance office the first few months with questions, recommendations, and applications. After the football teams victory at the homecoming game, we held the homecoming dance. After a night to remember, Mark McNamara was chosen king, Lindsey Prior, queen, Mike Milani, Brian Denietolis, Terence Sanderson, Dean Rovedo and Adam Haddad were the princess, and Tricia Ryan, Erin Maillet, Sheena Grandpre, Stephanie Poitras, and Jess Finneran were our princesses. The year was flying by. Soon we had all our applications sent and were waiting for acceptances as well as preparing for this years' junior senior Christmas party, which unfortunately never took place due to lack of interest. To lift our spirits, the football team won the state championship, again, by defeating Martha's Vineyard 35-6 in the Division 5 SuperBowl game. The track team also won the League Championships in both indoor and outdoor, a first ever for the Hawks. Earlier this month, we went to Disney World for a trip we'll never forget. After our four day vacation, the end was in sight. Only eleven days until our last day, and on top of that our senior prom was that Friday night. The prom vacation, the end was in sight. Only eleven days until our last day, and on top of that our senior prom was that Friday night. The prom was held at Lombardo's in Randolph. We managed to enjoy the night even though our scheduled DJ, was no-show. After eating some lousy chicken and vegetables, we danced the night away at our last high school prom. That night Dean Rovedo left a king and Nicole Herrick a queen. Mike Morkos, Mark McNamara, Andrew Grillo and myself, Willis Martin were chosen princess while Jennifer Penswick, Tiffany McAdams, Justine Camire and Michelle Dennis were princesses. Just one week of school left, the end was closer the we could ever imagine it would be! The last day we all arrived early to greet the junior who had been taking our senior parking spots the whole year. Soaking them in water was the least we could do to show our appreciation, so we covered them in silly string as well. After running halls and saying our good-byes, we left the school almost as soon as we had arrived. We still had a trip to go though; the class would meet once again. The trip to High Meadows was, to sum it up in one word wet. It rained all day. We weren't going to let the rain ruin our fun. We ventured out into the rain and played flooded mini-golf, muddy horse shoes, and many other dampened sports.

That takes us to where we are today, and what used to be our reality is now just faded memories written on a class history page. Wherever we may go we will always remember high school. For some the memories will cause nostalgia and we'll reminisce of times past and others will want to forget all of this. The history tells of the past, every graduating senior will have their own future, which only they can write.

Salutatorian, Erin Maillet

Good evening honored guests, faculty, parents, friends, and all of you who have come to share in this special celebration. I would like to especially offer my congratulations to this, the last senior class of Bellingham Memorial Jr. Sr. High School, the class of 2001. Looking out at all of you tonight, I am reminded of the times we've shared and the friendships that we've had, some new, some timeless and some that have simply faded away. I can't believe how far we've come and yet it is only the beginning.

Over the year, I have watched each member of our class change, whether by hair color, style, or even acquaintances. I know however, that the unique person within each one of us has remained the same. It is extremely difficult in today's world to be an individual. We all struggle with the heavy expectations placed on us by society. It is much easier sometimes to just get swept away into a crowd of clouded ideas that are not our own. However, I know that the concept of individuality is still alive and that our deals and beliefs need not be sacrificed for conformity. It is important to feel accepted, but in order to accomplish tat, we must first accept ourselves for who and what we are. The types of choices that we make result in the way the world judges each one of us, and more importantly, in the way we judge ourselves. Now, as we move on, we will face many challenges and make many decisions that may shape and possibly alter our lives. I know that the fear of moving on has struck each and every one of us at least one. It sometimes helps me though to remember to live for myself and to work for my own satisfaction. It is not enough to make others happy if you in fact are not happy yourself. And so it is my hope that we have the strength to face tomorrow with those ideals and beliefs we have always cherished. William Shakespeare once said, "To thine own self be true." This is my message for you tonight. In what sense you may ask. In the sense that we not reflections of our friends, but rather a companions that help them grow. Always keep your own ideals in mind and hold on to them firmly in whatever you do. A true friend is not someone you aspire to be like, but rather someone who inspired you to be yourself. Thank you and I wish all of you the very best of luck in the future.

Valedictorian, Keith Jackson

First of all, I offer my congratulations to my fellow graduates of the class of 2001, and my thanks to all of the family, teachers, friends, and everyone else who helped us here today.

Tonight I am to talk about opportunities. They're everywhere these days it seems. Kids just starting out in elementary school are now being trained for jobs that don't even exist yet, but will by the time they get to where we are today. High school itself is an opportunity, a free public education that many people around the world still can't get. Technology continues to advance, creating new jobs and new fields of study that are wide open, waiting for the right people to come in and take them. The opportunities are everywhere, if you look hard enough.

What is most important, however, is to take advantage of these opportunities you do find. An opportunity passed by can never be gotten back, and will be regretted for as long as it is remembered. BY taking advantage of each opportunity that we came across, we can quickly reach whatever goals we set for ourselves. Jack London, a noted author, once said:

"I would rather be ashes that dust; I would rather that my spark should burn out in brilliant blaze than it should be stifled by dry-rot; I would rather be in a superb meteor, every atom of me in magnificent glow than in a sleepy and permanent planet, the proper function of man is to live, not to exist."

I share Mr. London's vision when I say that it is important to grasp each opportunity as it comes along, instead of waiting around and watching it pass by.

We are the class of 2001, the first class to graduate in the new millennium, and also the last class to graduate from this building. The past is impossible to change, and the present almost as difficult. It is the future we must work towards improving. We stand on the doorstep of a future that will be different for everyone — whether it involves college, or a job, or the military — yet no matter what path we all follow, the opportunities for success are always there. The future itself is an opportunity — seize it. Become that meteor, that blazing spark.

I will end by quoting from the Cub Scouts. Their motto is just three simple words — "Do Your Best." It's all that anyone can ask of you. Again, my congratulations to you all.

GOODBYE TO ROMANCE

Yesterday has come and gone
Tomorrow will I find the sun or will it rain
Everybody's having fun except for me I am the lonely one
I live in shame

Chorus:
I said goodbye to romance,
Goodbye to friends
Goodbye to all the past
I guess that we'll meet, we'll meet in the end

I've been the king, I've been the clown,
Still broken wings can't hold me down
I'm free again
The jester with the broken crown
It won't be me this time around to love in vain

And I feel the time is right although I know
That you might say to me
What ya gonna do
What ya gonna do
'Cause I have to take this chance
Goodbye to friends and to romance
And to all of you
And to all of you

And the weather's lookin fine and I think the sun
Will shine again
And I've cleared my mind all the past if left
Behind again

Our Finest Hour

Six years of being together. Going through the good and the bad all for the thrill of this moment — Graduation. It took a lot for us to get here, there were tears and laughter but we made it. After this it is all unknown, the future is something we can not predict but we will always have our memories of our past at BHS.

The guys pose for a picture as they anxiously wait for the start of graduation.

Jen Cardinal's cap gives us a nice reminder of who helped us get to this point in our lives.

The girls are full of excitement as they walk down to the graduation ceremony.

Kelly Delaney and Eric Hurtardo are full of smiles after receiving their diplomas.

The boys are glad it is finally over.

Operation Graduation

Thanks to our parents we enjoyed a safe and fun all night graduation party. They worked for about a year to make sure this night was unforgettable. The high school was transformed into the set of The Wizard of Oz. Activities were planned for us all night. There was dancing, a casino, nail salon, tattoos, palm reading, boxing, an obstacle course and much more. Fun was had by all!

Krystal Brown
1983-2000

Last year the class of 2001 suffered a great loss, along with the school and community. Krystal Brown died tragically in a drowning accident. As a class of juniors at the time, the class of '01 was struck deeply by such a tragedy. A link in our chain had been broken. It hardly seemed fair.

Krystal was an average teenager, just like the rest of us. She was a classmate on whom we could always rely to share a warm smile when passing in the halls. To her closest friends she was a problem solver, a good listener, and a loyal friend.

Krystal was special, strong, and one of us. She was our classmate, our peer, our friend. Although more than a year has passed since her death, we have not forgotten the girl in the hall, the missing link. It is certain that we never will. We love you and miss you Krystal.

"Raised the Roof"

and are off to live your lives, always remember what was under this roof.
Remember your friendships, your laughter, the tears and frustrations.
Remember the happy days and even the sad ones,
and always remember the smiles of the people who cared.
Take with you the important life lessons
and use them when you need to.
Best of luck to you all and thanks for my memories.

Election 2000

George W. Bush selects Dick Cheney, former Wyoming representative, and former secretary of defense as his vice-presidential running mate on the Republican ticket.

The 2000 presidential election was in many ways decided by not just the voters but the courts. Five weeks after election day, the US Supreme Court blocked Al Gore's request to have disputed Florida ballots recounted. George W. Bush and Dick Cheney won the election after being awarded Florida's 25 electoral votes.

Antiquated voting methods in this age of technology threw the presidential election into turmoil. Punch card ballots, and the accompanying "Votomatic" system were first created in the 1960s. Disputed ballots had chads, or paper fragments hanging from the punch card that made it difficult for voting machines to read the ballots.
